Re: Software Engineering Intern

Dear Hiring Manager,

My name is Marcos Hung. I'm a second year computer science student at San Jose State University. I am writing to you in regards to the open software engineering intern position in your company and am interested in applying for this program and becoming an intern who can help Williams-Sonoma provide high quality products for its large customer base. I saw the posting for this position on LinkedIn and thought I would be a perfect fit for the job.

I have always been passionate about data, which is why I chose to major in Computer Science, as it combines both my love for programming and statistics. The way data can be used to deceive others really intrigues me. For example, if I said that people who wear seatbelts are statistically more likely to develop cancer, I wouldn't be wrong. This is a clear case in correlation does not mean causation. I hope to utilize my skills in programming to pursue a career in data science and an important aspect of a data scientist is that they are always learning and developing their skills, which is why I believe that this position will allow me to showcase and improve both my analytical skills and coding ability.

I interned with the San Mateo County Transit District as the IT intern where I not only assisted the help desk, but also prototyped and developed the entire district's new intranet site is still being utilized to this day. As a result, user satisfaction has increased tremendously and productivity for employees has skyrocketed since replacing the outdated site. In this position I was able to gain valuable experience switching roles frequently on different tasks and projects as well as effectively resolving conflicts quickly and ahead of schedule.

I am confident that my skills and adaptability will add to the company team's dynamic and would be an exceptional candidate for this position. Feel free to contact me. My contact information is listed above.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I look forward to meeting you and discussing my qualifications in more detail.

Sincerely,

Marcos Hung
